

Buried

Doherty, W. (Photographer). (2009). Buried: Solo Exhibition. Exhibition, Glynn Vivian Gallery.

Link to publication record in Ulster University Research Portal

Publication Status:

Published (in print/issue): 01/01/2009

General rights

Copyright for the publications made accessible via Ulster University's Research Portal is retained by the author(s) and / or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing these publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

Take down policy

The Research Portal is Ulster University's institutional repository that provides access to Ulster's research outputs. Every effort has been made to ensure that content in the Research Portal does not infringe any person's rights, or applicable UK laws. If you discover content in the Research Portal that you believe breaches copyright or violates any law, please contact pure-support@ulster.ac.uk.

Oriel Gelf Glynn Vivian Art Gallery

Willie Doherty Buried

Main Gallery
19 December 2009 - 14 February 2010

Willie Doherty (b.1959) is internationally celebrated for his work which includes photographs, video and film installations which are rooted in the political landscape of his native Derry. Whilst situated in the context of Northern Ireland's contested political and geographical history, the themes and imagery running through his work have universal significance and appeal.

This exhibition, originated by The Fruitmarket Gallery, Edinburgh, touring to Glynn Vivian Art Gallery, brings together a selection of Willie Doherty's films and photographs, including a new film entitled, Buried, which was commissioned by The Fruitmarket Gallery with support from the Esmée Fairbairn Foundation.

Buried was made and will be shown in the context of an earlier film, Ghost Story (TATE Purchase: 2009), which was first presented at the Venice Biennale in 2007. Both works deal with memory, its repression and return, but while Ghost Story is narrated by a male voice piecing together a story of remembered horror, Buried relies on ambient sound to animate its dark, almost gothic, woodland imagery.

The films influence each other, the recounted memories, dreams and premonitions of Ghost Story seeping into Buried. These films are complemented by a selection of photographs made throughout Doherty's career.

Exhibition organised by The Fruitmarket Gallery, Edinburgh

Image: Willie Doherty